

A FOUR-PART SERIES

STORYTELLING FOR SOCIAL & PLANETARY CHANGE

OCTOBER 7, 14, 21 AND 28, 2020

What role do stories play in our lives and in our struggles

for justice? Counterpoint, the Pachaysana Institute, and the Wolfsonian Public Humanities Lab at FIU are partnering together for an online series that focuses on storytelling and its relationship to knowledge, justice, healing, and the creation of new possible futures for the planetary community (re-storying).

Each Wednesday in October, we'll meet to discuss these themes. After an introductory webinar, each day will consist of a discussion on a specific topic among a panel of experts, followed by an interactive workshop with all interested participants to further dialogue, process, and create together. Click here to register. Attendance is free, but we are accepting donations from those who are able (click here to donate in USD & here to donate in EUR)

OCTOBER 7 INTRODUCTORY WEBINAR

INTERACTIVE WEBINAR: 11 AM - 12 PM EST
With Counterpoint & the Pachaysana Institute

OCTOBER 14 STORYTELLING AS KNOWING

PANEL: 11 AM - 12:30 PM EST
David Abram, Juan Sanchez, Polly
Walker
INTERACTIVE WORKSHOP: 12:45
PM - 2 PM EST
With Guest Facilitation by Juan
Sanchez

OCTOBER 21 STORYTELLING FOR JUSTICE & HEALING

PANEL: 11 AM - 12:30 PM EST
Carol Wayne White, Teja Brooks
Pribac, Hector Aristizábal
INTERACTIVE WORKSHOP: 12:45
PM - 2 PM EST
With Guest Facilitation by Hector
Aristizábal

OCTOBER 28 RE-STORYING

PANEL: 11 AM - 12:30 PM EST
David George Haskell, brontë
velez, Alexandra Cornelius
INTERACTIVE WORKSHOP: 12:45
PM - 2 PM EST
With Guest Facilitation by brontë
velez